PREAMBLE.

THE CHARITABLE IRISH SOCIETY, founded in the town of Boston, A. D. 1737, was instituted for two purposes:

First. To cultivate a spirit of unity and harmony among all resident Irishmen and their descendants in the Massachusetts Colony; and, while adhering to the fundamental principle which underlies all governments, — obedience to properly constituted authority, — to advance socially and morally the interests of the Irish people.

Second. To alleviate suffering, and to aid such of its members as by the vicissitudes of fortune might be deserving of its charity.

Remembering that morality, industry and education are the levers which move and direct the world, the present members pledge themselves anew to maintain and perpetuate the purposes of the Society as expressed by its founders,—so that even our fellow-citizens of other origin may be converted into helpers, ready to aid us in developing and strengthening our resources; and that the interests of Irishmen and their descendants may be advanced by encouraging the culture of those great principles, which, guided by charity, tend to make the perfect man.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. This Constitution and these By-Laws may be altered or amended when a written proposition for the same shall have been presented at least one regular meeting prior to action being taken thereon, and upon the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

BY-LAWS.

1. The President shall order special meetings of the Society on a requisition signed by ten members, presented at least twenty-four hours previous to the time contemplated for said meeting to take place, and direct the Secretary to notify the members of the same and the object set forth in the requisition.

2. The President shall preserve decorum and order; may speak to points of order in preference to other members; and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the meeting, by motion regularly made and seconded. No other business shall be in order till the question on the appeal shall have been decided.

3. The President shall declare all votes, and he may, upon any member rising and doubting the vote, call on the members for or against the question to rise and stand until they are counted by the Secreary, without any further debate on the question.

4. The President shall propound all questions in the order in which they are named, unless the subsequent motion be previous in its nature, except that in naming sums and fixing times, the largest sum and longest time be put first.

5. When a motion is pending, the President shall entertain no motion, but

1. To adjourn,
2. For the yeas and nays,
3. For the previous question,
4. To lay on the table,
5. To postpone indefinitely,
6. To postpone to a day certain,
7. To commit,
8. To amend,

which several motions shall have precedence in the order above stated, but no motion shall be received from a member, while another has the floor.

6. When two or more members happen to rise at once, the President shall designate the one who is entitled to the floor.

7. A motion to adjourn shall always be considered first in order; and that motion and the motion for the yeas and nays, to lay on the table, and to indefinitely postpone, shall be decided without debate.

8. On all questions and motions whatsoever, the President shall take the sense of the meeting by yeas and nays, whenever one-third of the members present shall so require. No motion shall be entertained while the yeas and nays are being called, except by unanimous consent; nor any debate allowed while the members are voting on any question; nor shall a motion to adjourn be received. When the yeas and nays are being taken, the roll shall be called and no member shall be allowed to vote who shall not be upon the floor at the time his name is called or before the roll call is finished. Any member may change his vote after the yeas and nays have been called through, and before the vote is announced from the chair.

9. The President shall put the previous question in the following form. Shall the main question be now put? and all debate on the main question shall be suspended until the motion for the previous question shall have been decided. If the question so put be decided in the affirmative, the question shall be taken forthwith on the pending amendments in their order, and then upon the original motion. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, shall be decided without debate, excepting on an appeal from the decision of the Chair, and on such appeal no member shall be allowed to speak more than once without the consent of two-thirds of the members present.

10. Every member when about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the Society, shall rise and respectfully address himself to the President, shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality, and when he has done speaking shall sit down.

11. No member when speaking shall be interrupted by another, but by rising to call to order, or for the purpose of making an explanation.

12. No member shall speak more than twice on any one question, and on an appeal and previous question only once, without first obtaining leave of two-thirds of the meeting.

13. When a vote has passed, it shall be in order for any member of the majority to move for a reconsideration thereof, except in cases of alterations of the Constitution on the same or succeeding meeting, and when a motion for reconsideration is decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered.

14. No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

15. No motion shall be debatable until seconded and stated from the Chair by the Presiding Officer, and then can only be withdrawn by the mover, with the unanimous consent of the members present, before an amendment is made or a vote taken.

16. Any question shall be divided when called for by any member, if the sense will admit of it. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall neither preclude amendment or a motion to strike out and insert.

17. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the Presiding Officer, before being put to the meeting.

18. When a motion to adjourn is made and lost, a motion again to adjourn would not be in order, unless some business has been transacted in the interval between the two motions.

19. These Rules and By-Laws may be altered and amended in accordance with article fifteenth of the Constitution.

20. Any one of these By-Laws may be temporarily suspended, with the consent of three-fourths of the members present and voting.

Cushing's Manual shall be used as the standard for Rules or Order in all cases not herein specified.

CHARITABLE IRISH SOCIETY

FOUNDED 1737

The Oldest Irish Organization in America

The following preamble was adopted at the time of the formation of the Society in 1737:

"WHEREAS: Several Gentlemen, Merchants and Others of the Irish Nation residing in Boston in New England, from an Affectionate and Compassionate concern for their countrymen in these Parts, who may be reduced by Sickness, Shipwrack, Old age and other Infirmaties and unforseen Accidents, Have thought fitt to form themselves into a Charitable Society, for the relief of such of their poor and indigent Countrymen, without any design of not contributing towards the Provision of the Town Poor in general as usual. And the said Society being now in its Minority, it is to be hoped and expected, that all Gentlemen, Merchts, and others of the Irish Nation or Extraction, residing in, or trading to these Parts, who are lovers of Charity and their Countrymen, will readily come into and give their Assistance to so laudable an undertaking; and for the due Regulation and Management of said intended Charity, the Society, on the seventeenth day of March, in the year 1737, agreed on the following Rules and Orders."

Then follow the "Rules and orders" in detail, comprising thirteen sections besides the By-Laws. Section VIII declared that "The Managers of this Society shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Treasurer, three Assistants, and Three Key-keepers, with a Servitor to attend the Society's service, the Managers to be natives of Ireland, or Natives of any other Part of the British Dominions of Irish Extraction, being inhabitants of Boston."

Section XIII provided that

"The Key-keepers are to attend Gentlemen and others, Natives of Ireland, or of Irish Extraction, residing in these Parts, or Transients, to acquaint them with the Charitable Design, and Nature of this Society, and to invite them to contribute by the Formality of delivering them a Silver-Key, with the Arms of Ireland thereon; and if any Persons do refuse the same, they are to return their names to some subsequent Quarterly Meeting."

The Twenty-Six Original Members of the Society were

Beane, John		Feb. 11, 1772	Sec'y, 1796-1821

At the meeting March 17, 1821: "Voted, The thanks of the Society be given the former Secretary, John Beane, and that in future he be considered an Honorary Member."

"Mr. Beane lived, and was among us till very lately; in 1834 his name is mentioned on our books, thus showing him to have been connected with the Society sixty-two years, nearly two-thirds the whole period of its existence. He and the Society were mutually proud of the connection which the Ruler of all things permittd to be continued so long; and as there are many who now hear me who enjoyed a personal intimacy with the good old man, it has been thought that the knowledge of the time of his commencement of his connection with this institution would be acceptable."—Boyd's Centennial Address, March 17, 1837.
